HOMEWORK AND THE EDUCATIONAL PROCESS

Community Consolidated School District 93 strongly encourages the participation of parents in the education of their children. The responsibility for developing an appreciation of the value of education and ensuring that educational progress is made is a joint responsibility of the student, the student's parent(s), and the educators of the District.

Some learning experiences may be enhanced by extending class work through the assignment of work to be done outside regular class times. Teachers may give homework to pupils to aid in their development. While homework will be implemented based on administrative guidelines, the type, frequency, and quantity of homework should be adapted according to the needs of the individual student as determined by the professional judgment of the teacher. Homework should be an application or adaptation of a classroom experience and should not be assigned for disciplinary purposes.
